- Rates of volunteerism has decreased
- Affiliation with religious organizations has decreased

DEFINITION

- Loneliness- distress
  - Loneliness can occur when people are surrounded by others
  - Defined by satisfaction with connectedness

STAKEHOLDER ADVISORY COMMITTEE MEMBER
World Health Organization: “[Health is] a state of complete physical, mental, and social well-being”

20% of people age 55 years or older experience mental health concern
- Anxiety, severe cognitive impairment, and mood disorders (such as depression or bipolar disorder)

Older men have the highest suicide rate of any age group

Older adults with depression
- Visit the doctor and emergency room more often
- Use more medication
- Incur higher outpatient charges
- Stay longer in the hospital

80% of depression cases are treatable!
ISOLATION AND LONELINESS IMPACT DEMENTIA

Dementia

A syndrome, usually of a chronic or progressive nature, affects:

- Memory, thinking, behavior
- Performance of everyday activities

50 million people worldwide are living with dementia

- Projected to increase to 82 million in 2030 & 152 million in 2050

Support is needed from the health, social, financial and legal systems for both people with dementia and their caregivers!
CULTURAL CONSIDERATIONS

1/5 of Hispanics, 65 years or older
   Reported not receiving the support they need, compared to 1/10 of older white adults

Immigrant populations less likely to actively seek support
   Public Charge

African Americans can be averse to seeking support
   Stigma

Gender differences
   Adults 50 or older, men more likely to report they “rarely” or “never” received support
"Different people may be lonely for different reasons, and so a one-size-fits-all kind of intervention is not likely to work because you need something that is going to address the underlying cause."

1. Older adults have somewhat lower rates any type of specialty mental health services utilization compared to all other age groups.

2. Older adults have lower rates of service engagement (5 or more visits) within specialty mental health services compared to all other age groups.
